LEAD. GROW. TAKE UP SPACE

Dr. Maya Faison is a faith-rooted leadership strategist and executive coach who catalyzes high-achieving women to lead, grow, and take up space, especially in environments that reward silence, over-performance, and self-censorship.

Through her coaching and advisory work, Dr. Maya supports women navigating power, visibility, and high-stakes leadership while refusing to shrink, play small, self-silence, or burn out to belong. She is known for naming the invisible costs women pay to stay "palatable" and equipping leaders to lead with clarity, authority, and conviction.

Her flagship keynote, Unmuted™, is a bold call for women to reclaim their voice, presence, and power—on stage, in the boardroom, and in their lives. She is also the author of "Worthy of Wholeness: A 21-Day Devotional Journey for Women Seeking Wholeness While Healing", which frames wholeness not as a destination, but as a posture—inviting women to lead, love, & live fully, even while they are still becoming.

A Leadership Voice That Names What Others Won't
